

Liberal Studies Department

Aldea Mulhern

Visiting Professor, Liberal Studies Department and Religious Studies Program

211 Lake Ontario Hall
1 Campus Drive
Grand Valley State University
Allendale, MI 49401
Phones: 616-331-8227
Email: mulherna@gvsu.edu

Ph.D. Study of Religion, University of Toronto

COURSES

- LIB 100: Reflect, Connect, Engage
- LIB 314: Life Journeys
- REL 100: Religions of the World

Interests

Professor Mulhern teaches and writes about: method and theory in study of religion; anthropology of religion; food, religion, and environment in community activism; food in Judaism and Islam; the value and value-ing of liberal education.

Writing

Research

- 2015 "What does it mean to 'Eat Jewishly?': Authorizing discourse in the Jewish Food Movement in Toronto, Canada," Scripta Instituti Donneriani Aboensis. Vol. 26: 303-325. <http://ojs.abo.fi/index.php/scripta/article/view/844/1263>
- 2014 with Andrea Most. "Jewish Studies: Food," Oxford Bibliographies Online: Jewish Studies. 90 entries. <http://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/view/document/obo-9780199840731/obo-9780199840731-0067.xml>.
- 2014 with Michel Desjardins. "Living Sacrifice: Rethinking Abrahamic Religious Sacrifice using Field Narratives of Eid ul-Adha," Not Sparing the Child: Human Sacrifice in the Ancient World and Beyond, eds. Vita Daphna Arbel, J. R. C. Cousland, Richard Menkis, and Dietmar Neufeld. London: Bloomsbury, 190-212.

Teaching

2017 "A Recipe for Success? Or, When Students Wanted an Assignment Outline, What I Gave Instead, and What Happened Next," Bulletin for the Study of Religion. Special issue: Teaching and Theorizing Religion and Food. Equinox Pub: Sheffield, UK.

Other

2015 "Russell McCutcheon's Theses on Professionalization: Aldea Mulhern on Thesis 17," Bulletin for the Study of Religion, NAASR, Equinox. 2000 wds.

Copyright © 1995-2017 GVSU