MY DIRTY STORY

Dirty Girl Gaiters have been adding style and sass to the trails since 2004.

The rage began when fashionista and ultra-marathoner Xy Weiss made leopard print gaiters to match her leopard print jog bra. In the beginning, she made extras to give away to girlfriends. By the time she ran the 2004 Western States 100 mile Endurance Race, the demand for dirt was overwhelming.

She uses all profits from this dirty business to "pay forward" and "pay back," donating to worthy non-profit causes, charity based ultramarathons and trail events, and dozens of athletes who promote the Dirty Girl energy and spirit.

Dirty Girl Gaiters are made in America by goddesses from their empire of dirt in Green Valley, Arizona.

Domestically, Dirty Girl Gaiters are available on-line and from select retail stores.

Internationally, Dirty Girl Gaiters ships to certain destinations; they are also available from the Ultramarathon Running Store, and many select retail stores around the world.

The Dirty Girl hopes to see you on the trails soon. She will be at the back of the pack, in a pink leopard tutu, pink leopard gaiters. You'll know. Really. Ask her about her pet praying mantis or say something dirty to her. Make her day!
