Policy overview

Used clothing (except underwear and socks) can be listed on eBay with restrictions. The item must be properly cleaned and the listing must clearly state that the item is used. eBay strictly prohibits the sale of used clothing listed with inappropriate images or content.

Adult-themed clothing items may be listed in the Adult Only category, however, additional requirements set out in the Clothing \(new or used\) section of the Adult Only category policy apply. Make sure your listing follows these guidelines. If it doesn't, it will be removed, and you may be subject to a range of other actions, including restrictions of your buying and selling privileges and permanent suspension of your account.

Why does eBay have this policy?

We require our buyers and sellers to follow all laws and government health codes. For health and hygiene reasons, we don't allow the sale of used underwear.

Contact Customer Service

You can contact Customer Service to report a listing you think violates this policy. Go to that listing, and then click the Report item link on the right side of the page.

We'll review your report and take appropriate action.
